SOVIET SNIPER — Air view of the Russian trawler Vega, photographed off the Atlantic Coast last April, was branded by the U.S. Navy July 13 as an "electronic spy ship." Eleven different types of antennae mounted atop an electronic van over the ship's bridge were described as capable of covering any frequency in radio or radar. The ship was present during U.S. submarine tests off Long Island and near Cape Henry, Va., where the Navy and Air Force held a joint exercise, according to a Navy spokesman, who said the ship was obviously there to gather electronic intelligence information.

Teachers Hired At Fairfield

2 Resign; Board to Seek 3-Mill Levy

FAIRFIELD — Nine new teachers were hired and the resignations of two teachers and a member of the Board of Education were accepted at the regular Fairfield-Waterford Board meeting on Thursday night at the New Waterford School.

Edward Kirk tendered his resignation as a board member because he is moving to Rogers, Ark. where he will work for the Deming Co. His successor will be named at the next meeting.

The following teachers were hired:

Elementary: Mrs. Betty Stoffer of East Palestine, Mrs. Ronald Spillman of New Waterford, Miss Martha Noel of Rogers, Miss Kathryn Campbell of Columbiana, Mrs. Sandra Rowan of Leetonia, Gerald Huffman of North Lima; junior high, Mrs. Charity Miller of Lisbon; industrial arts, Richard Hutira of Leetonia; and music, William Battista of Waynesburg.

The resignations of Misses Evelyn and Theresa Mercure were accepted.

A resolution was passed requesting an additional three-mill operating levy for five years at the November election. The additional revenue will be used to increase teachers salaries, repair present buildings and to operate the new high school now under construction.

School board members voted to sell their 10-year-old 59-passenger school bus. Bids will be accepted until 8 p.m. Aug. 11. The vehicle may be inspected at the Fairfield School.

It was reported that bad weather has hampered the progress of the new Crestview High School.

The footers have been poured and blocks are being laid. Completion is set for 1962.

Board Agrees to West Branch's Use Of Reilly Stadium

The new West Branch School District will use Reilly Stadium here for its football games in the fall, following approval of the plan yesterday by members of the Salem Board of Education.

West Branch, created by a split of the former Mahoning Local District, will utilize the Goshen school building at Damascus as a high school but no athletic field is available. Goshen has played its games at the Sebring McKinley High School field in the past.

Sebring, however, is a district unto itself as a result of the creation of West Branch which encompasses all of the former Mahoning Local District except the Sebring area.

Darrel Fadeley, assistant superintendent of Salem public schools, said board members have agreed to West Branch's use of Reilly Stadium for its Saturday night games this fall, but that schedules and contractual arrangements must be worked out.

West Branch board had requested the use of the Salem football field, rather than use Sebring's.

U.S. Switches to 'Get Tough' Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, under heavy Soviet posturing, has largely abandoned its pusillanimous policy of seeking businesslike negotiations with Moscow and is switching to a get-tough strategy of its own.

Evidence of this change is already becoming apparent. It will be fully developed at the United Nations next week when the United States and the Soviet Union join battle over charges and countercharges of threats to world peace.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his top aides are reported to be preparing a massive verbal assault on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's activities since he torpedoed the summit conference at Paris two months ago.

President Eisenhower is described by officials here as fed up with Khrushchev's incessant campaign of accusations against the United States. He apparently feels that Khrushchev's hostile policy leaves no recourse except to strike back hard.

Two moves by the State Department Thursday reflected the developing new tough line. The department announced a note to Moscow calling off indefinitely negotiations scheduled for next Monday on an air transport agreement between the two countries.

This step was blamed on "recent Soviet actions and utterances" which, the department said, have poisoned the atmosphere for negotiation.

At the same time the department issued a new warning to Khrushchev to keep his hands off Latin American countries, particularly Cuba. It denounced him for claiming that the 137-year-old Monroe Doctrine of America for the Americas is out of date and for trying to scuttle the U.S.-Cuban treaty covering the American naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba.

Khrushchev, the department asserted, is trying to establish a "Bolshevik doctrine" under which he would make use of "Soviet military power."

Cuba Recognizes Peiping As Red China Group Visits

HAVANA (AP) — A high-level Chinese Communist trade mission was due in Havana today, and Peiping was expected to offer to take up some of the slack in Cuban sugar sales created by the U.S. cutback in purchases.

It was anticipated that the trade talks would lay the groundwork for establishment of full diplomatic relations, which would make Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime the first nation in the Western Hemisphere to recognize the Peiping government.

Judge Finds Way to Punish Auto Thieves

CINCINNATI (AP) — Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin Schwartz has figured out a punishment for first offenders among Cincinnati's juvenile automobile thieves.

They'll be put to work washing and waxing city and county government cars.

"Kids seem to have an obsession about cars these days," Judge Schwartz said. "But maybe if they have to break their backs washing and waxing these cars for a while they won't be so addicted."

"In fact, they may hate the sight of an automobile before they're finished."

U.N. Hurries 22-Man Guard To Help Congo

Assembles African Military Force for Restoring Order

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations hurried a 22-man advance guard to the Congo today and assembled an international African military force to help restore order in the chaotic new African republic.

Maj. Gen. Carl Carlsson von Horn of Sweden, since 1958 head of the U.N. Truce Supervision Organization in Palestine, leaves his Jerusalem headquarters by plane today to become commander of the new military force.

Going south with him were five radio technicians, five security guards, and 11 military observers to serve as advisers and instructors to the mutinous, 25,000-man Congolese army, now in revolt against its Belgian officers. Diplomats here said the observers were officers of the truce organization from Canada, Denmark, New Zealand, Norway and Sweden.

Ghana and Tunisia already had agreed to provide troops for the international force. Guinea, Mali and Morocco were asked to fill out the force and were reportedly offering to send two of its three British-trained army battalions.

U.N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche told a news conference in Leopoldville he expected four battalions—perhaps 2,400 soldiers—to be in the Congo early next week.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld also asked the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, India and Italy to transport the troops and supply food to meet a shortage in Leopoldville.

The United States already had offered such assistance, and President Eisenhower approved the airlift of 300 tons of American surplus food to the Congo from stocks in Europe.

Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev told reporters he had passed Hammarskjöld's request along to his government and hoped it would be considered sympathetically. The Soviet Union has refused to contribute to the support of the other U.N. military force keeping peace between the Egyptians and Israel, terming it an illegal organization.

Some stores reopened and Congolese collected peacefully at their places of employment to get their midmonthly pay.

PLANE FROM THE CONGO — Wounded paratroopers are helped down the ramp of a plane in Brussels, Belgium. They were flown back from the turbulent Congo Republic.

Ghana Detachment Heads Congo Aid

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, (AP) — Ghana today delivered the first token detachment for the international military force ordered by the U.N. Security Council to the chaotic Congo to help restore order.

Maj. Gen. Henry Alexander, British commander of Ghana's small army, and a small detachment of his troops set up headquarters in a downtown hotel to roars of approval from hundreds of Congolese gathered outside.

"All we are trying to do is to get everybody to put down their arms and not to do anything foolish or anything silly," a Ghanaian spokesman said.

Alexander, after a talk with U.N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche, held a staff meeting in the hotel lobby.

The commander of the U.N. force, Swedish Maj. Gen. Carl Carlsson von Horn, leaves Jerusalem by plane today for the Congo, bringing with him 11 military advisers of various nationalities, 5 radio technicians, and 5 security guards.

Tunisia dispatched an advance party of six police officers Thursday night. The North African country said it would send 500 soldiers.

Bunche said Thursday he expected perhaps 2,400 troops by early next week from Ghana, Tunisia, Morocco, Guinea, and Mali.

U.S. Air Force planes were expected to start landing at Leopoldville Airport with the first part of 300 tons of flour President Eisenhower Thursday ordered sent to the hunger-threatened new African nation.

Arrival of the first tiny U.N. detachment seemed to create a new and more relaxed atmosphere. Long lines of Belgian refugees in automobiles still waited to take the ferry across to Brazzaville, but there was an easier air about the city.

Some stores reopened and Congolese collected peacefully at their places of employment to get their midmonthly pay.

Ohio Edison, Union Reach New Contract

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Edison Co. and one of three labor organizations with which the company has been negotiating have reached agreement on a new contract.

The contract agreement with the joint council of the Utilities Workers of America, ratified Thursday, is subject to ratification by six UAW locals. The company has been conducting separate negotiations with a seven-a local — at Youngstown — which says it is withdrawing from the UAW, and with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

An offer made to the IBEW last Friday is to be voted on by locals of that union. Terms of the offer were not revealed.

The agreement reached with the UAW joint council provides for wage increases in the first year ranging from 6 to 13 cents an hour — equivalent to a 4 per cent boost — and 5 1/2 to 14 per cent hourly in the second year.

Also included are improvements in pension and insurance clauses. The contract is retroactive to

Dems Ticket Makes Sense--- Both Politically and Personally

By JAMES MARLOW
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Democratic ticket of Sen. John F. Kennedy for president and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for vice president is a couple of kinds of fish, political and personal.

For years Johnson, 51, has shown signs of aching for the presidential nomination. Therefore, seeing it go this week to Kennedy, eight years his junior, must have been a shattering blow.

The fact that Johnson, at Ken-neddy's request, would accept the No. 2 spot on the ticket looks bewildering at first glance. It makes sense when you lift the lid on this strange political pot and look inside.

Johnson, as Senate leader of the Democrats, for years has had one of the most important and powerful jobs in the country. What he wanted was the most powerful job of all, the presidency.

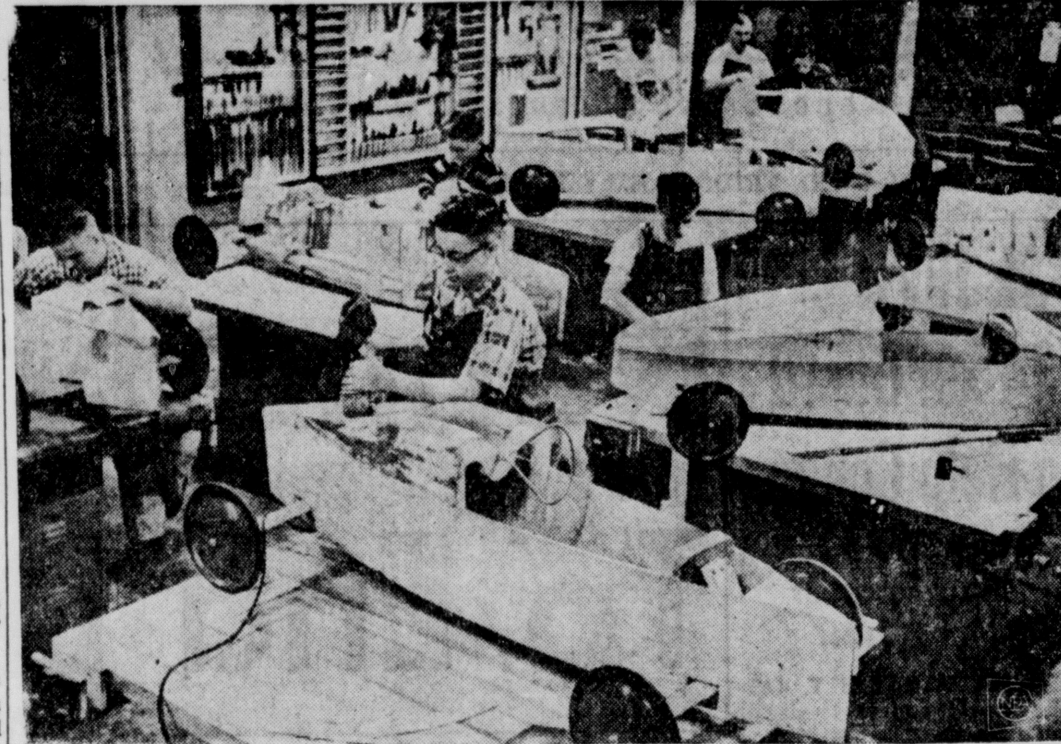

Compared with either one of them, the vice presidency is a shadowy situation.

A vice president traditionally simply presides over the Senate, votes only to break tie votes on the floor, and runs errands for the president.

Johnson, whose Senate term is up this year, without question could be re-elected by Texas and retain his Senate leadership. He still is expected to run for the Senate as well as the vice presidency.

But this happens to be a touchy year in the national political scene.

The South, as it showed at the Democratic convention, was restive and balky over the very liberal civil rights platform plan shoved down its throat by the rest of the convention delegates.

There was a good chance the South in next November's elections would be a lot less than wholehearted in its support of the Democratic ticket headed by Kennedy.

By getting Johnson to run with him, Kennedy went a long way toward pacifying the South, which is where Johnson had his main backing in his unsuccessful bid for the presidential nomination.

So from a political standpoint it makes sense to put Johnson on the ticket as Kennedy's running mate.

But there's a personal element in this.

Washington newsmen who have dealt with Johnson for years know he has a gigantic ego. This is precisely why Kennedy's victory over him must have cut the Texan deep.

It would hardly seem sensible for a man, dressed in the tremendous robes of power worn by a Senate leader, to give up that job for the comparatively less influential post of vice president.

But Johnson, who has talked with newsmen at great length about the nice things said of him over the years, could feel particularly honored if the voters chose him for a job just one heartbeat away from the presidency.

There is more. Johnson, a tremendous manipulator of men, could use the vice presidency in a way not attempted by others who have held that job. He could try to hold the reins of power in the Senate even though someone else succeeded in his present title as Democratic leader.

That's one point. As vice president he would not only sit in the president's Cabinet but also be a member of the National Security Council, the most influential and powerful single group in the executive branch of the government.

Thus Johnson, as vice president, could be a powerhouse in both the legislative and executive branches of the government to a degree never before attempted, even by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Knowing Johnson it seems correct to say that while he has been denied a chance at the most powerful single position in the country, the presidency, he would use the vice presidency in such a way that he would be indisputably the second most powerful man.

There is one other consideration in all this. A Kennedy-Johnson ticket will have a two-edged appeal to voters next November.

Liberals and intellectuals, labor and Negroes, will be able to support a ticket headed by Kennedy. Conservatives can feel that the conservative Johnson, even though he has a fairly liberal record himself, will be a restraining force within the government if the Democrats win.

Add all the pieces together, and it's quickly understandable why Kennedy asked Johnson to be his running mate, why Johnson so quickly accepted, and why the convention so quickly approved.

Pipe Smokers

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

(For Hal Boyle)

AP staff writer Hugh Mulligan, writing in this space on Wednesday, said it was high time some high-minded crusader took out after pipe smokers. Mulligan, assuming the crusader's role, did so. In this article, staff writer George Cornell, a pipe smoker, takes off after Mulligan.

NEW YORK (AP) — All red-blooded citizens will rise to protest the attack that has been made on that noble comforter, the pipe.

It is an American institution. It is a source of calm, beneficence and peace. It is a well of inspiration and a thing of beauty.

Those who know the finer joys of tobacco are the pipe smokers. The pipe is a steady companion and friend, a faithful counsellor. Let it be said, at the outset, that the pipe is an ancient bulwark of culture; the cigar and cigarette relatively modern upstarts.

The pipe is an instrument of gracious esteem. It receives care and affection. It is a thing of permanence, value and distinction. You do not devour, or inhale the smoke of a pipe. You savour it.

It imparts a temperate outlook in the spirit of its user—an awareness that the blessings of life should not be abused, that they deserve respect and concern.

It is thus that the pipe instills trust, encourages contemplation and a reflective, balanced view of life. It is the handmaiden of thought and creativity. It has enlarged the mind of man.

Ever since Sir Walter Raleigh sang the glories of the pipe to the courts of Europe, it has given inspiration and solace to poets, philosophers, statesmen, dramatists and historians.

The pipe is the builder of dreams.

Complaints about its scent are absurd. The air of any room is fallow and without life until it has been sweetened by the fragrance of some delicate pipe mixture.

There is almost a religious element about a pipe. In fact, it had its first uses in the ancient ceremonials of the Mayans in Mexico and Muskogee Indians of southwestern America, those wise and stout-hearted men.

It was the "pipe of peace," that great Calumet adorned with eagle feathers, that signified the restoration of amity among the tribes.

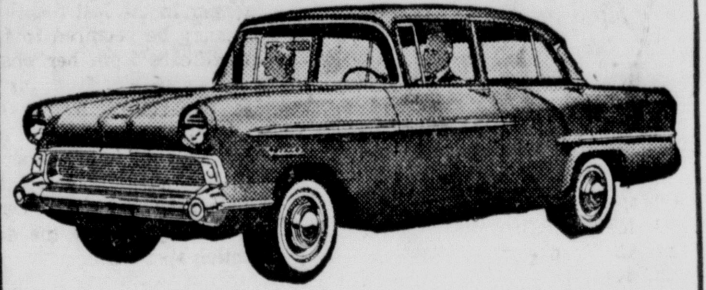

A supply of good, old briars, with the incense wafting through the halls, would probably do more for restraint and patience in world diplomacy than any other contribution.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

Air Travel Is Safe During Pregnancy

I have had a flurry of inquiries about the effects on pregnancy of jet airplane travel. In general the questions asked are:

Dr. H. T. Hyman

"Is jet travel apt to produce miscarriage?"

"How late in pregnancy is it safe to travel?"

Both questions have been carefully studied and reported on by committees of the Aerospace Medical Assn., the Airline Medical Directors Assn., and the Air Transport Association of America.

As to the problem of miscarriage a study of 1,000 women, between the ages of 16 and 42 years, who traveled by air in World War II, failed to disclose any relationship between the flight and loss of the baby.

HENCE IT IS reasonable to conclude that a woman early in pregnancy need have no fear that airplane travel will result in abrupt termination of her pregnancy.

As to the safety of travel in the later months of pregnancy, the committees are agreed that commercial airlines need have no reservations about accepting healthy passengers through the first eight months of their gestation.

However, they recommend that the passenger in the last month of her pregnancy be required to furnish a certificate from her obstetrician, dated within 72 hours of scheduled departure, stating that the patient has been examined and found physically fit for transportation from the take-off point to the expected landing field. The certificate must also indicate the date of the anticipated birth.

SINCE ADOPTION of these recommendations, there has been no record of precipitate full-term labor or on any scheduled domestic run of any American commercial airliner.

Although the experience with jets is still somewhat limited, the results should be equally satisfactory, even on overseas travel.

The committee points out that jet travel is considerably faster, air time is appreciably reduced, and the craft are pressurized at greater levels.

NEVERTHELESS, it has seemed advisable to discourage passengers from overseas travel after the eighth month of their pregnancy.

I trust this information answers all the many inquiries I have received on this subject. If not, correspondents are advised to com-

1960 Budget Surplus to Be $1 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government next week will announce a fiscal 1960 budget surplus closer to one billion dollars than to the 200 million dollars President Eisenhower forecast in January, government sources reported today.

Revenues have run higher and federal outlays somewhat lower than the figures sent to Congress in Eisenhower's budget message. Those were $78,600,000,000 in revenues and $78,400,000,000 in outlays for the fiscal year that ended June 30.

Therefore, despite earlier official predictions that the 1959 steel strike might throw the budget into red ink, the administration will turn in its third balanced budget in seven years.

Officials in recent months have been gradually revising upward their guessing on the surplus. Informants said it now appears that the surplus will be between three-fourths of a billion and a billion dollars.

An almost-final tally will become available in the Treasury's statement of operations for June. This is due about the middle of next week.

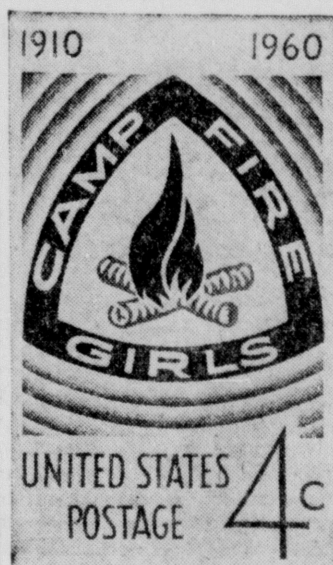

There has been speculation however that Eisenhower himself might announce the figures beforehand in a special statement. The complete accounting will not be ready until about October.

The rising incomes of Americans resulted in unexpectedly heavy individual income tax payments to boost the fiscal 1960 revenues. Personal income is expected to continue to rise this year and should help the administration meet its goal of a $4,300,000,000 surplus in the new fiscal year which started July 1.

However, Congress will deal with several major money matters in its August return session, and some have predicted that it may add a billion dollars or so to the $79,800,000,000 spending program envisioned in the Eisenhower budget.

Tax collections from individuals, officials said, have more than offset a lag in corporation tax payments. Corporate profits since mid-1959 so far this year have not matched official expectations.

Convention Gets Blame for Everything
TOWANDA, Pa. (AP) — After Ernest Easton, 26, of Canyon City, Colo., and Charles Hackett, 28, of Elmira, N.Y., broke out of jail Thursday night, Sheriff Frank Detrick began questioning other prisoners about the incident.

He was unable to learn anything from them. They told him they failed to notice the departure of the pair because they were busy watching the Democratic National Convention on TV.

Changing the Guard In Party Politics

Between the conventions and Labor Day, the old guard in both political parties will have been supplanted by a new guard reflecting the new leadership in both organizations.

Both presidential candidates will have chosen their key administrators. There will be new faces in the party organizations. And one certainly about the new faces is that they will be younger than the faces they replace.

This will be pointed to as evidence that young men are taking over the party—as indeed they will be. Both presidential candidates are certain to be young men. Both will be inclined to surround themselves with men of their own generation.

But as to young men taking over the parties, here is a familiar evolution in politics that should be commonplace by now. Yet every time it occurs, the event is described as if it never happened before.

POLITICS ALWAYS is being taken over by younger men, except it finally occurs to onlookers that the young men seem that way only because the onlookers keep growing older.

Thomas E. Dewey broke into presidential politics at the age of 42.
Wendell Wilkie was only 48 when he burst on the political scene like a sky rocket. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is made to seem like a party patriarch when his name is bracketed with Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson, was scarcely 50 when he reached the White House.

Robert A. Taft, who was to become Mister Republican and the outstanding personality of the Roosevelt administration's loyal opposition, was only 50 when he reached the Senate.

IN THEIR DAY, men like these were symbols of a youth movement in U.S. politics. Those who now wonder petulantly if kids are taking over everything only reveal their accumulation of birthdays.

For the first time in their lives, many citizens who liked to think government was in the hands of their elders will be voting for a presidential candidate younger than they are. They are the elders now, not the juniors.

The "old guard" in politics is passing, and the aging are marching with it. Moreover, when they see and hear some of the spokesmen of their generation, like some of the unreconstructed rebels who inveigh against civil rights at Democratic conventions, they can only believe the guard isn't being changed a year too soon.

Time to Be Thrice Shy

Even if the United States never had been reviled by Cubans, whose ancestors were liberated by U.S. action, or reviled by hostile elements in the Philippines, it should know better than to think it could win gratitude for intervening in the unsettled affairs of the republic of Congo.

Even if U.S. troops had won a vote of gratitude among Asians for stepping in under United Nations authority when Korea was in trouble; if they had been greeted as benefactors for their intercessions in South America and Central America; if the world was ready to think of armed intervention as a police action, instead of an act of unilateral coercion—the United States still would have no reason to send troops to restore order in the republic of Congo.

As it is, the United States would get nothing out of sending troops to this disorderly new nation but an evil reputation among all the new nations of Africa. It has been burned this way before.

It would become involved in the chaotic politics of one evolving society still many generations away from stability and might become involved in the politics of others among the new nations.

The busybodies of the international Communist conspiracy would crucify it whenever and wherever they could find a gullible audience willing to believe the worst. They would accuse it of force and colonialism.

America's historic conception of the Monroe Doctrine as a Keep Out sign posted on the New World would be twisted to make the United States seem to be in violation of its principle that interference is in itself an unfriendly act, regardless of motive.

No stretch of even a hopeful imagination can produce anything but the gloomiest prospect for the use of U.S. troops to restore order in the Republic of Congo. It would be an ill-considered action that would give every African for generations to come an impression of the United States that would hurt it among the rising nations of the one-time Dark Continent.

Doing Whatever Is Necessary

It remains to be seen what partisan use will be made of the new Soviet accusations against the United States for aerial reconnaissance.

Americans may have learned something during the U2 incident. Chiefly, they learned what a tragic thing it is for a government to be attacked by its own citizens for doing whatever is necessary for their security.

It took weeks of expansion and discussion to bring the American people up to date on the need for the U2 flights—not the failure of the May 1 flight but the policy of taking high-altitude pictures of Russian territory. Many Americans were disposed to criticize their own government for having done what it had to do. They put their defenders on the alert.

This was an odd quirk of psychology — something like the quirk that makes fickle baseball fans boo a batting champion for taking a called strike.

THE SOVIET UNION apparently was tempted by the manner in which partisans flew at the Eisenhower administration over the U2 disclosure to try the same thing again. Its talking point this time is another U.S. plane that apparently was shot down close to the Russian border inside the Arctic Circle. Again, it was a reconnaissance plane. Again, it was performing an indispensable function for U.S. security. Whether this serv-

Once Over

The Democratic National Convention was the most over-covered, over-played, over-written, giveaway program masters of cere-TV had everybody there but the commercial writers, giveaway program masters of ceremonies and soap-opera directors. During the first few days we sent out for TV repair men to PUT OUR SET OUT OF ORDER.

The coverage convinced us that need of the nation is for underground shelters during all party conventions. Airwaves used two-platoon system for full coverage of such minor details as lost delegate inquiring for her right seat and for a fellow who wanted to wave at his kids. It was a garraulous week.

Countless members of unseen audience regarded convention airwave coverage as unfair to the American home if not an act of aggression against quiet living rooms. Mortimer Topblower was among the sufferers. "I wouldn't listen to some of those convention orators if they had made their speech in cowboy costume from horseback," he declared, "and I like Westerns. They tell me they had a 16-year-old schoolboy make an address and that it was easier to follow than most of the adult orations."

"The old-time conventions were easier on the public nerves," he continued. "Before radio they could be taken without tranqui-lizers. Until TV came in, Mr. and Mrs. America were protected against the full and bore-some details of extra deadly proceedings."

Newspapers told the story without sending out everybody but the composing room fore-man and the circulation manager. The public wasn't left dazed and bleeding. Nobody felt an urge to run somewhere and hide from the convention coverage.

Today all is changed and the weird, noisy, exasperating circus is brought crashing into home and fireside. Not even the World Series or Rose Bowl game gets such attention."

"Political conventions are pretty important," we said. "Don't you think the people are interested?"

"Yeah, but not to the extent of being driven nuts, bowled over by gas attacks and ambushed by deadly routines," snapped Mortimer. "These conventions can kill television."

MOOSE FOOTPRINTS are bothering golfers on a Bretton Woods course. We can't understand why. We have played golf, or nearly so, for many years, man and boy, and moose footprints would have helped our game. We never could get direction or precision on a perfect course but a cow, horse or camel footprint always seemed to help.

Once we got into what must have been the footprints of a herd of elephants, and the ball bounded so crazily that it corrected our errors and wound up a few feet from the pin.

On another occasion our ball wound up under a cow in a shed on a Connecticut links. Our contention that we could life the ball without penalty because it was a "casual cow" failed. We played it under the critter and heard it hit two milk cans and a farm wagon, and later found it in the middle of the fairway, an almost perfect shot.

Scrap of Paper?

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Bluntly, what the nation's hard-hitting labor leaders sought in return for their support in Los Angeles was U.S. President who would side with them in the coming showdown with American industry.

Few among the public have noticed it, but the showdown fight is on. While everybody was counting delegate strength, a few observers were counting strike crises. The number of conflicts was a grim one on the morning the Democratic convention opened.

There were strikes or strike crises in the auto industry, in steel, on the rails, on the commercial airlines, in missile plants, in shipyards where the newest submarines are being built, on the docks, in electrical equipment and household appliance firms, as well as at experimental "Thinking" labs, at airports and on outer space installations.

When the headlines on this little noticed industrial war break through the front pages, the public will discover how serious the issues are. For the first time many managements are determined to keep their plants open in the face of picket lines. And virtually all companies are doggedly set to fight it out for months on their right to set work rules — the very issue which shut down the steel industry for 116 days.

MANY OF THESE companies have the same customer—the nation's biggest buyer—the U.S. government.

The unions, faced with industrial challenge to their basic strength, want the head of that buying company—the President of the U.S.—on their side.

Without him, they might win a very long strike. But it would take millions of dollars and keep hundreds of thousands on the bricks.

There are, in fact, scores of thousands on strike at this minute. Some of them, for example, have been out at the American Manganese Steel Division of the American Brake Shoe and Foundry Co., Chicago Heights, Ill.

These steel unionists struck Jan. 6. There the battle is over whether the company shall have the right to change the work rules from past practices.

Or there was the Ford strike in Cleveland at a stamping plant which, in turn, shut down plants employing at least 10,000 workers. The issue: Production standards—which means the amount of work and efficiency required of a man by the company.

A quarrel over production standards goes right up the committee ladder. But the contract says specifically that the union has the right to strike over his issue since it isn't taken to arbitration.

In this case the Ford Co. insisted on its right to set standards at its plants. The Auto Union objected—and walked out.

Engineers and scientists struck five RCA plants in the Camden, N. J., area in a challenge of the company's right to give merit increases in its own fashion.

The "thinkers" wanted automatic across-the-board merit raises and "retention of employees". The company said you're moving in on management rights. So they struck.

On the Long Island Railroad, the striking trainmen began picketing to keep their right to veto management's manning plans and other executive office planning.

IN A FEW WEEKS the air really will burn with charges and counter charges when the on-rain employees of the nation's rail lines fight the industry's rail lines six-point revision of work rules.

This, like the other showdown, is a simple battle over who will make the decisions—labor and tradition or the management executive suites.

Typical of the rail lines demands is the absolute insistence on the elimination of union rules which fix the number of crew members the roads must hire and the type of work some employees are permitted to perform in the yards.

Work rules differ as industries differ. The principle is the same, for example, on the Southern Airways or in the plants of the United Aircraft Corp. and some missile producers which have been struck over the issue.

In this group three is one big difference. These companies have been operating despite picket lines around their installations.

General Electric also will attempt to operate its 167 plants if Jim Carey's Electrical Workers strike any time after Aug. 2.

Obviously the showdown is here. Whichever side loses, loses for a long time.

Girl Enjoyed Forestry Camp

I would like to thank The Salem News and Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., for sponsoring me in a trip to the Ohio State Forestry Training Camp. I enjoyed camp and I learned many new things about forestry.

The following is a brief report of my camping trip. I hope that report will give you information that will make you decide to send some other teenager to this camp next summer.

My trip to camp was about 200 miles. My first sight of camp at Tar Hollow was a huge lodge made of log, a big lake with a dock and two boats tied up. This all set deep in a valley with the cabins up on the surrounding hillsides.

After we registered and were assigned cabins there was a delicious supper followed by a vesper service and a movie on forestry and a square dance.

Our classes which followed a hardy breakfast and flag-raising, were conducted by well-trained instructors. We had classes two and one half hours in the morning and three hours in the afternoon.

In these classes we studied the kinds and species of trees, the time to plant, how to plant, where to plant, we cruised timber, studied watershed and its repair and improvement, choice cutting of timbers, thinning and pruning, and many others. We made leaf books in our spare time and at the end of camp they were judged.

Will of Majority

How Much Good Is a Convention?

LOS ANGELES — Sen. John F. Kennedy has taken the plunge, he has heartily endorsed the most radical and divisive platform the Democrats have ever adopted.

It means the loss of electoral votes in the South but the Massachusetts senator is confident of offsetting this with votes in the northern states.

This convention has come to a sad climax. It didn't nominate Adlai Stevenson, the true disciple of New Dealism and so-called "liberalism."

It didn't nominate Lyndon Johnson, the apostle of safe and sane liberalism.

It gave no thought really, as a convention, to any basic principles but obeyed the dictates of a small clique, hand-picked by Sen. Kennedy, to write the platform and steamroller the convention.

Nothing could have been more discouraging to the American people to watch than the real spectacle of what has been going on inside the convention.

They couldn't, of course, see this on the television screen. But the indifference of the delegates — the bored look, for instance, on the faces of many of them as vital principles of public policy were being presented in the majority report of the platform committee—was very revealing.

IT TOLD a story of the utter failure of the convention system to reflect the wishes of the people on the issues of the day.

Sen. Kennedy's nomination was a foregone conclusion long before this convention assembled. This writer observed the signs many months ago as he learned of the efficiently political way the Kennedy apparatus — well-financed and well-organized — was selecting delegates and using local influences on the political front to make all kinds of promises to win delegate support.

This is not the manner in which the American people should be choosing their presidential candidates.

A platform, for instance, is supposed to be an expression of party thought. Yet, as the chairman was reading the ponderous phrases, the delegates were busy talking among themselves or moving around the convention floor.

Frank Sinatra, the movie star, came along and began shaking hands with some California delegates as the ever-present photographers gathered around him.

The celebrities of the Hollywood screen were very much in evidence.

Sideways seemed to interest the delegates more than the main tent, with its debate on the party platform.

When the Southern leaders got to the rostrum to express their dissent on the "civil rights" plank, there was a slight pick-up of interest.

The galleries booed the Southerners as their leaders tried to tell the convention that they may be making it hard for the Democratic national ticket to carry the South this time.

Romance Stock

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street still has an eye for the romance stocks. But recently the blue chips neglected for much of this year have caught the stock trader's fancy, too.

The investing public is likely to get that way about the blue chips when the going is slow and cautious, not to say a bit apprehensive.

The blue chip conservative liability is more appreciated then. Its sisters, the growth stocks, seem a bit less glamorous.

However, it's an attitude that can, and often does, change overnight.

The blue chip is the darling of the institutional buyers and of most stock price indexes. But that is more a result of being one than a reason for being one.

How do you tell a blue chip from the multitude of stocks on sale on the country's stock exchanges? And what makes a less well known stock suddenly glamorous?

The romance stocks that have caught the trader's eye this year for a brief or protracted alliance fall largely into these classes:

SPACE-AGE STOCKS — Shares of companies seemed set to cash in on the spending for space satellites, for missiles and rockets, and electronics in general. Example: Texas Instruments Inc., which sold at around 53 times its annual earnings.

DEFENSE ITEMS — Every time Khrushchev hurls some verbal missiles at the United States, stocks of companies deemed sure to profit by any step up in currently favored forms of defense turn glamorous.

GROWTH STOCKS — Darlings of the long bull market. These are shares of companies that through excellent management, or in up and coming new industries, seem sure to grow faster than the average. Examples are International Business Machines recently selling at around 55 times its annual earnings, and Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing, selling at around 52 times earnings.

NEW PRODUCTS — Glamour also touches stocks of companies that seem sure to grow because of a consumer product that catches wide favor. Prime example: Polaroid, whose stock price climbed to around 80 times its annual earnings.

Such a thing could hardly happen to a blue chip of the old school.

The blue chip used to hold pretty close to a price that was 10 times earnings. But in these days of inflation of most market values, many of them now sell at prices well above that ratio. Before the stock market break early this year some were at 20 times earnings.

Unlike the blue chip, the growth stock usually pays small or no dividends, the company putting earnings back into further growth. In relation to the market price paid, the return to the buyer is quite small in comparison with the higher yield of the blue chip. But the buyer of growth shares is looking for capital gains through rising prices of his stocks more than for dividends.

The blue chip is the tried and true one. Its appeal, both to the institutional buyer and to the compiler of a stock price index, is its stability, its reputation for both conservatism and steady if unspectacular growth, its long record of consistent earnings and regular dividends, its lesser risk of wide price fluctuations. These characteristics cut out many top companies in industries given to marked cycles of output, sales and profits.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You frequently say in your column that a married woman need not put up with a man who no longer cares for her. You phrase it this way: "Your husband has to support his children or go to jail."

By such advice you give the impression that when a wife gets bored, she can throw her husband out and collect support money. In other words, you encourage divorce as "the easy out."

In case you don't know it, Ann Landers, there are already too many man-hungry divorcees on the loose. You don't help the situation by painting glowing pictures of the split home. You do more harm than good and I wish you'd button your lip on this subject.—A FOUR-YEAR OBSERVER.

Dear Observer: Anyone who has read this column for four years should know where I stand on divorce. If you can show me a single column that I wrote which advocates divorce I will buy you a new car. (Your choice.)

It is the law that a man must support his children. Most states have closed a favorite loophole for irresponsible husbands who simply let the state to avoid paying support.

I do not believe that a woman should live with a man who abuses her and the children or beats her regularly, like a gong. In such cases, I recommend separate roofs and child support. This is not the same as divorce. In my book, marriage is forever.

How to Lose Friends

Dear Ann: I grew up with a girl I will call Wendy. To this day we are the dearest of friends. Our mothers were very close for many years.

Recently Wendy's mother said to me, "I never see our mother any more. I call on her but she doesn't call on me. I feel bad about losing her friendship and I wish you'd tell her."

I phoned Mom that night and told her what Wendy's mother said. This was her reply: "I can't tolerate that woman since she has become a grandmother. She talks of nothing but her grandchildren. 'She doesn't give a person a chance to sit down before she hauls out dozens of anecdotes. Then she starts with the anecdotes. I can't stand it.'"

DIES AFTER 14 MONTHS
CINCINNATI (AP) — Frank Adams, 61, of Covington, Ky., died in the U.S. Veterans Hospital here Thursday of automobile accident injuries that had left him unconscious for 14 months. Relatives said Adams was hurt in a wreck near San Bernardino, Calif., on May 13, 1959.

COW BELLE — Newest type fan club is for Holstein cow breeders. Dawn Ruff, 5, wears the club's shirt on the Monroe, Wis., farm of her grandfather, Holstein breeder John Ruff.

Shall I tell Wendy to pass along the word?—CHARLOTTE.

Dear Charlotte: Stick out of it. Let your mother care for her own friends. Your information would not be well received by either Wendy or her mother.

Childish Behavior

Dear Ann: I'm a girl who just turned 13. A few months ago I was in seventh heaven and now I am in a heartbreak hotel.

I'm crazy about a boy who used to like me. I know it's my fault that he doesn't care for me anymore. Several months back he threw snow on me after a big dance. I slapped him across the face in front of a lot of kids. I know it was the wrong thing to do because he was just being playful. I have tried to apologize but he still won't be friendly. I've tried everything I know of to get him back but nothing works. Please help me, Ann.—BLUE LADY.

Dear Lady: Age 13 and already a permanent resident of "Heartbreak Hotel?" Well!! Kids of 12 SHOULD be throwing snowballs at each other and not going to dances. You behaved childishly because this is the way children behave. Slow down. P.S.: Where's your mother, anyway?

Dear Ann Landers: Floyd and I were secretly married during our senior year in high school. I just found out I am pregnant.

Floyd and I got both sets of parents together last night and told them the news. Floyd's mother and my father had to be fanned back to consciousness. It was horrible.

Today we got together again and everyone was feeling better. The question we want you to help us answer is this: Would it be proper to have wedding announcements printed up for our friends and relatives and show for a picture of a stork, to sort of hint at the other news?

Floyd and I think we ought to announce everything at once and get it over with. Our folks don't agree. What do you think? —PATSY.

Dear Patsy: I don't think so either. Have the wedding announced as soon as possible — and save the baby announcement as long as you possibly can. ...

This Way Out

Dear Ann: I am sick in body and in mind. I don't know where to turn.

We are both nearing 60 and have been in love for three years. I'm self-supporting and manage to get by but there are few luxuries.

When we met he was down on his luck. We found comfort, companionship and happiness together. We talked about a future.

At Christmas time he met a cute little woman who is younger than I am. When he started to take her out it almost killed me. He even suggested we stop seeing each other for a while.

Now he has cut me down to one visit a week. It used to be every night. No one paid any attention to this man before I started to see him. Now I'm sure it flatters his ego to have two women wanting him. Please, Ann, tell me what to do. I'm at the — END OF THE LINE.

Dear End Of The Line: The sensible thing to do when you reach the end of the line is to get off.

Nothing is so unattractive to a man as a discarded woman who gets on her knees and begs for a cure of affection. This is the one sure way to extinguish any small spark that may be smoldering in the ashes.

A couple "nearing 60" who found "comfort, companionship and happiness together" doesn't wait three years to marry — if the feeling is mutual.

Stop seeing this man at once and make new friends. It's your only chance to salvage some self respect and to make a new life.

Unwanted Suitor

Dear Ann: I am a girl 18 who has been going out with a fellow who is 29. He keeps saying in a half-joking way that he's going to marry me when I am 20.

I like this guy but I don't love him and furthermore I never will. In fact, I'm uncomfortable with him because he is more worldly than most of the fellows I'm used to. I don't care for cigarettes but I smoke when I'm with him because I think he wants me to. I also have a cocktail or two with him even though it makes me dizzy and silly.

The trouble is, my dad works for this fellow and I don't want anything to happen to my dad's job. What shall I do?—EVE.

Dear Eve: Your dad wasn't hired because you agreed to date this fellow, was he? Well, he won't be fired when you drop him. He's too old for you. Let him down gently but firmly and go out with fellows with whom you're comfortable.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Paraguay Dictator May Resign, Flee

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The Argentine news agency Telpress reported today that President Alfredo Stroessner of Paraguay is preparing to resign and take his family to Switzerland. The story said he already had booked airplane passage.

There was no confirmation of the dispatch, which came from the news agency's correspondent in Posadas, an Argentine city across the border from Paraguay. It is a center for Paraguayan rebels and a hotbed of rumors.

The Argentine National Maritime Authority confirmed reports from Posadas that a boatload of armed civilians had crossed the Parana River from Argentina to Paraguay, landing at Ordenez.

The Telpress dispatch said Stroessner is yielding power as the result of a reorganization of his Colorado party. The army will take over the government to avoid violence and give Stroessner a chance to get out, the report said.

The army has long been a principal supporter of Stroessner, South America's last dictator.

Johnson

from other sources in and out of the Kennedy camp, was this:

Thursday morning, Kennedy went to Johnson's suite and they talked over vice presidential possibilities. Kennedy sounded Johnson out on taking the number two spot on the ticket but didn't offer it to him.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn, Johnson's fellow Texan and longtime political mentor, was opposed to Johnson's running for vice president, fearing it might be a dead end for him politically.

Johnson apparently let Kennedy know this because a short time later Kennedy slipped away to Rayburn's nearby hotel suite. In the end Rayburn was won over, but not without some reluctance.

After seeing Rayburn, Kennedy returned to his own hotel suite where Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio, Carmine DeSapio of New York and other party leaders who played a major part in Kennedy's nomination were gathered.

A decision was reached that Johnson would strengthen the ticket the most. Other possibilities, such as Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Sen. Harry M. Jackson of Washington, and Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota, were discarded.

Word of the decision was relayed to Johnson by telephone, but it was only a few minutes before the news was made public, shortly after 4 p.m., that the Texas had agreed to accept the No. 2 spot on the ticket.

stamping plant has climbed to 500 persons.

Among the Salem factories which have been enlarged during the past year are Hunt Valve Co., a $150,000 expansion; Miller-Holzworth Co., $35,000 and Sekely Tool & Die, Inc., $100,000.

The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. recently completed a $250,000 expansion to its district exchange plant on N. Lundy Ave.

Other plant improvements have been carried out by the Deming Company, Save-Way, Tooling Aids and Salem Label Co., in addition to commercial business improvements such as Salem Builders Supply Co., new quarters, expansion by the A. & P. Super Market, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., new building, and others.

Members of the Salem Rotary Club and their sons — 45 in all — attended the Pittsburgh-Milwaukee baseball game Thursday evening at Pittsburgh.

Atty. Scott McCorkhill was chairman of the arrangements committee.

Special Machinery Installed At Salem Plant

New Process Helps Demings' Pump Manufacture

The Deming Company has installed expensive new machinery at its plant here for the manufacture of small parts from the pump company's thermo setting material, "Fianite."

In these pictures a group of plant officials (left photo) watch Ralph Odey, factory research and product development engineer, at one of the machines. The others are (l. to r.) Robert Bielski, assembly superintendent; John R. Kerr, Jr., assistant factory manager; Stuart Umstead, machine shop superintendent, and (kneeling) Clifford Ayers, foundry superintendent, and James Ashman, tool supervisor.

In right photo, Mr. Odey inspects some of the new parts made from the thermosetting, glass-reinforced polyester molding compound. Registered under the trade name, "Fianite" by the Deming Company, the material is made from long strands of glass fiber and a special corrosion resistant polyester resin.

It is playing an important role in the production of small pumps, replacing heavier parts which must be machined, Company President Walter Deming explains.

The process for making parts of Fianite is quite expensive and a special refrigerated room has been built to house the raw material. This, plus the machinery for making the parts, will be moved from Deming's lower shop to the firm's upper plant within the next few months.

Each of the new Warner-Swasey 3AC machines purchased especially for Deming's Salem plant cost $50,000 apiece and will be used for the larger, heavier parts on Deming's industrial pumps. They will facilitate production because they can be "set up" in a short time, thus keeping the shutdown periods to a minimum.

Although Demings is moving a number of machine tools to its Rogers, Ark., plant, for the manufacture of small pump parts, all the larger machinery for the industrial pumps will be retained at the main Salem factory, Mr. Deming explained.

A rearrangement of machine tools and assembly lines at the local plant is in progress.

Dems

said there was "absolutely nothing to the story."

Knight wrote that Johnson had passed the word to Sen. Kennedy's brother Robert that, having been defeated by Kennedy for the presidential nomination, he wanted second place and would fight for it on the floor of the convention if necessary.

Confronted with this, Knight said, the presidential nominee agreed to take Johnson. The latter has tossed off some nasty cracks about the Massachusetts senator's immaturity in the face of a demand for world leadership from the presidential office.

Johnson's friends, of course, didn't agree with this version. They frankly couldn't figure why the Senate leader would be willing to trade his position for the vice presidency which, even in its advanced status, is a job in which one man stands in preparedness for another's death.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, who urged Johnson not to take second place, shook his head and sighed a little sadly at the outcome which was formally ratified by the Democratic convention Thursday night.

Rayburn's explanation was that Johnson had been offered the spot and replied in simple language that he couldn't reject any demand for service his party or his country laid upon him. Johnson himself offered no enlightening explanation.

Whatever his motives, by the introduction of Johnson's name on the ticket Kennedy appeared to have softened a movement to deny him the electoral vote of any states in the Electoral College.

Kennedy could deal with the complaining liberals of the party. They had no organizations to deny him the electoral vote of any state. He could pitch for their support by the liberal utterances such as he planned for tonight's extravaganza.

Tonight's formal acceptance ceremonies take the form of a big show with its Hollywood stars and premiere lights, its thundering thousands of spectators and its nation-spanning coverage by television and the newspapers.

Johnson has been a target for Americans for Democratic Action the liberal appendage of the party. He has been criticized by Chairman Butler for ignoring the recommendations of the Democratic Advisory Council.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, a pre-convention supporter of Kennedy, said his delegation feels the nomination of Johnson was a mistake.

U.S. Policy

itary power in support of Communist movements anywhere in the world."

With the shelving of the prospective negotiations on a U.S. — Soviet air agreement, the question has arisen here whether the negotiations among the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union on a treaty barring nuclear weapons tests will be continued at Geneva.

State Department officials said Washington has no intention of breaking off the nuclear test conference and they doubt that Moscow will do so. This three-power negotiation therefore stands as the only important exception to the general collapse of East-West diplomacy.

Buckeyes

nounced the nominee's preference for Johnson at an Ohio caucus shortly before Thursday night's session that completed the ticket.

"Kennedy and Johnson can win in Ohio," he told the caucus. DiSalle urged delegates to show the same united front for Johnson that enabled them to cast a larger unified bloc of votes for Kennedy's nomination than any other state.

On a motion by Harvey Johnson, Cleveland Negro delegate at-large, the caucus agreed by voice vote to support Johnson's nomination.

DiSalle reported Kennedy's preference for the Texas senator after conferences with Kennedy and separate groups of northern and southern governors.

"Southern governors are very strong in feeling that Johnson would be a necessity in view of Kennedy's acceptance of a liberal platform," DiSalle said. "The opposition of the southern states to the platform was less violent than in previous sessions," he added.

"We will be faced with the civil rights issue and Johnson's stand on some other issues," DiSalle continued. "But when you compare Johnson's record, it compares very favorably."

The governor reported a general feeling in the Kennedy camp that Ohio gave impetus to the Massachusetts senator's campaign. DiSalle endorsed Kennedy early last January.

"Other governors seem to have respect for Ohio because her delegates remained solidly united for Kennedy while other states split," he said.

DiSalle indicated that he passed up a chance to nominate Johnson because he felt it would leave Ohio in a better position for federal favors if Democrats win next November. But the governor has said repeatedly that he is not interested in a Washington appointment.

Some delegates expressed disappointment in Kennedy's preference for Johnson as a running mate over Symington.

"I'm not happy with Johnson," said Mayor Charles L. Babcock of Canton, "but I will go along with what Kennedy wants. I think the ticket will win in November but I like Symington better."

His assertions appeared to reflect the sentiments of some other delegates who expressed an early preference for Symington over Kennedy. Barely a handful of delegates stood openly for Johnson as their choice, after Kennedy, before the convention opened. A few said they liked twice-nominated Adlai E. Stevenson.

When Johnson's name was placed in nomination, Lake County Chairman Joseph E. Sarosy of Painesville, a 11th District delegate, carried the Ohio standard in the convention floor demonstration that followed.

Mrs. Helen T. Gunsett of Van Wert, Ohio national committee-woman, presented a resolution, adopted by the convention, thanking Mrs. Katie Louchheim, vice president of the national committee, and other officers and staff members for their work at the sessions. Mrs. Louchheim is convention director of women's activities.

July 1. Members of the unions have been working on a day-to-day basis since that date, when the old contract expired.

The six UWA locals in Akron, Lorain, Warren, Marion, Toronto and Shadyside represent 1,320 workers. The Youngstown local, representing nearly 500 workers, acted independently earlier this month when its members staged a two-day walkout. Last Monday the local voted to secede from the UWA and is forming an independent union known as the Association of Utility Workers of America.

Gene Potter, president of the Youngstown unit, has said the chief issue concerns a company proposal to let some work be done by outside contractors.

The IBEW locals are at Sandusky, Lorain, Massillon, Mansfield, Warren, Marion and Alliance, with a total of 625 workers represented.

Milwaukee Cuts Pittsburgh's Lead to 4 Games

Buhl Turns In 4-0 Whitewash

Ed Mathews Clears Right Field Roof

By The Associated Press
Ed Mathews was in a slump so bad he was even talking about it. Milwaukee's slugging third baseman hadn't hit a home run in 19 games, and his batting average was down to .266 with just two hits in 27 trips.

The second-place Braves were stumbling along the same way, losing 11 of their last 19 games. What's worse, they had managed to beat first-place Pittsburgh just three times in 13 tries. And they were 0-4 against little lefty Harvey Haddix of the Pirates.

They buried the slumps and the Haddix jinx but good Thursday night, winning 4-0 at Pittsburgh as Mathews walloped a home run a triple and a double while driving in three runs behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Buhl and Lew Burdette's neat, ninth-inning relief.

Other Teams Idle
The loss, coming in a make-up game while the rest of the major league clubs were resting after the All-Star games, trimmed the Pirates' lead to four games again.

It was during the All-Star games, which don't count in regular season statistics, that Mathews mentioned the slump he was trying to shake—and showed signs of shaking it by belting a two-run homer in Wednesday's 6-0 victory over the American League at New York's Yankee Stadium.

Oddly, the left-handed hitting Mathews broke the slump against three left-handed pitchers. It was Yankee Whitey Ford who gave up his All-Star job, and it was Haddix and reliever Fred Green who were tagged for his extra-base hits at Pittsburgh.

Braves Get 15 Hits
Billy Bruton, Del Crandall and Mathews each had three of the Braves' 15 hits against the Pirates, and a dozen off 'em were off Haddix, now 6-5.

Bruton's lead-off single and Mathews' double gave the Braves a 1-0 lead in the first inning. Then, with Bruton on base again, Mathews walked his 17th home run in the fifth inning. It was the seventh ever to clear the roof of the double-deck right field stands at Forbes Field, and the second Mathews has sent over that barrier.

The Braves got their final run in the ninth, when Mathews tripled and scored on Joe Adcock's squeeze bunt.

Milwaukee 100 020 001—4 15 1
Pittsburgh 000 000 000—0 5 1
Buhl, Burdette (9) and Crandall; Haddix, Francis (7), Green (9) and Burgess, W.—Buhl (9-3), L.—Haddix (6-5).

Home run — Milwaukee, Mathews (17).

Cincinnati Royals Sign Embry, Staverman

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association have brought two more players into the fold for the 1960-61 season. General Manager Pepper Wilson announced Thursday that veterans Wayne Embry and Larry Staverman have signed.

Embry played his college ball at Miami University and Staverman played at Villa Madonna. Embry was the Royals' leading rebounder last year with 692.

Class AA Softball Playoffs To Open July 28 at Kelley

Playoffs in the Class AA Softball League will get underway on Thursday, July 28, according to Dave Briskin, executive secretary of the Salem Softball Association.

On that date, the first and third place teams will meet in a best-of-three series as will the second and fourth place squads. The playoffs must be completed before Aug. 6 when the Columbiana County tourney is scheduled to open at Kelley Field.

U.S. Opens Davis Cup Play Today

QUEBEC (AP) — The United States Davis Cup team starts the long road back today with Bernard Barten and Barry MacKay carrying the American hopes in the opening singles matches against Canada in the first round of the American Zone competition.

Barten, 32, Dallas, Tex., veteran of the team which will try to gain back the coveted trophy lost to Australia last September, takes on Bob Bedard in the opening match on the clay courts of the Civil Employes Tennis Club. The second match sends MacKay, 24, of Dayton, Ohio, against Don Fontana.

"We got the break in the draw," said U. S. Team Capt. David Freed. "I think we'll win the first two matches."

Freed, who succeeded Perry Jones as captain of the U. S. team, said he figured the two countries might have split the opening singles if the draw had gone the other way.

"Bedard would have had a good chance to beat MacKay but not Barten," he said. "Barten's will power and steadiness are hard to beat."

Motorcycles Open 2-Day Racing Card At Canfield

A variety of racing will be offered this weekend at the Canfield Speedway.

The motorcycles move in tonight for a nine-race program. Then on Saturday night the late models and foreign sports cars provide the action in another nine-race card.

High-flying Jimmy Bickerstaff of Youngstown will be hoping to regain a winning stride on Saturday night in his 1958 Ford. Bickerstaff won the 50-lap midseason championship two weeks ago, but was beaten out by Don Arnold of Painesville last week.

Bickerstaff is one of the hottest late models drivers in racing today and only the fact that Arnold started in sixth spot and Bickerstaff 19th gave Arnold the edge. Bill Forney will have a rebuilt car on hand Saturday. The Andio Construction put on a new body to the 1958 Chevrolet. They believe the decrease in weight will give Forney just a little more speed and he can regain the winning pace he set last year.

There again will be plenty of competition on hand. Among the stars entered are Wimpy May of Auburn Corners, Nook and Gary Walters of Niles, Dick Lantz of Newton Falls, Scotty Rogers of Chagrin Falls, Bob Brocius and Frank Myers of Warren, Bill Watson of Youngstown, Bob Cain of Alliance and Ken Reeder of McConnellsville, Pa.

Some 20 members of the Left-handers organization will be on hand for a special 25-lap race in their small foreign sports cars.

Ronnie Rall will headline a huge field of motorcycle pilots from the Competition Riders Association.

Time trials both tonight and Saturday begin at 7 p.m. and the first race at 8:30.

Ohio Amateur Field Cut to 16

Steve Pipoly Loses To Elyria Golfer

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's 54th amateur golf championship moved into its third match-play round today without last year's king but with 16 talented aspirants fighting for the crown. All survivors won two matches Thursday.

Tony Blom of Cincinnati, the 1959 winner, was dethroned in the second round by two-time state public links champion Jack Zimmerman of Dayton. Zimmerman's impressive 5 and 4 victory threw the race wide open and moved the 32-year-old aeronautical engineer into the forefront of the favorites. No public links player has ever won the amateur title.

Two 18-hole rounds, cutting what's left of the original field of 205 to the four semifinalists, were scheduled today over Zanesville Country Club's 7,020-yard, par 72 course.

The match getting top billing was between Dan Carmichael of Columbus, this year's qualifying medalist, and Dr. Harry Duccilli of Cincinnati, who led the list a year ago and reached the finals against Blom.

Still in the running are two public links players and both have won the state pay-as-you-go title. Zimmerman won it in 1951 and 1953, while 45-year-old Art Todd of Columbus, the tournament's veteran, is the current ruler.

Todd goes today against Fritz Schmidt, a 26-year-old engineer from Ohio State, while Zimmerman meets curly haired Dick Flockenizer of Mansfield, a 32-year-old Ohio University grad.

Other third round matches are: Bob Seyler, 35-year-old conveyor belt manufacturer from Mansfield, vs. Dick Quinn of Zanesville, a 31-year-old tavern owner.

Bob Hoag, 30-year-old Columbus insurance man, vs. Al Hager, 36, insurance executive from Mansfield, a former Marine who has been in the match play section of the amateur for 15 years.

Don Albert, 28-year-old Columbusite who once won the Big Ten golf title for Purdue, vs. David Hall, 21, of Cincinnati, the Queen City's metropolitan champion.

Bob Rankin, 31-year-old Zanesville real estate operator and 1955 champion, vs. Richard Guardiola of Cleveland, a 23-year-old sharpshooter just out of the University of Miami, Fla.

And cigar-smoking Mac Sims, 40, of Columbus, who does his playing on a nine-hole course, vs. Art Hudnutt, 30-year-old newspaper executive from Elyria.

Saturday's semifinals and Sunday's championship round will be over the 36-hole route. In the last nine tournaments hometown entrants have won seven times—and Zanesville still has two stalwarts in the field.

Elyria's Hudnutt downed Steve Pipoly, Youngstown, 1 up, and followed up by beating Phil Fleishman, Cleveland, in another 1 up duel.

Tribe To Send Perry Against Nats Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians open a four-game series with the Washington Senators here tonight as the American League title chase resumes following a four-day break for the two All-Star games.

Jim Perry, who has won nine games and lost four, will start for the Indians and Pedro Ramos (5-9) will open for the Senators. Both are right-handers.

Following the Washington series, the Tribe will meet the league-leading New York Yankees in three games and then will depart on a 14-game swing through the east.

Tonight's game will be the 77th for the Indians, marking the end of the first half of the season's schedule. They are 2½ games behind the Yankees and only one-half game ahead of the third-place Chicago White Sox.

In order to step up their tempo during the second half the Tribe must improve against the contending clubs — New York, Chicago, Baltimore and even Detroit.

So far the Indians have won only 19 of 45 games against these clubs. They are 5-9 with the White Sox, 5-6 with Baltimore, 4-6 with Detroit and 5-5 with the Yankees. Forty-three games remain with these clubs.

Against the bottom three clubs, the Indians are 9-2 against the Senators, 8-2 with Kansas City and 7-3 against the Boston Red Sox, giving them 24 victories out of 31 games.

The Senators have lost eight straight to the Indians, including the five games played here this season.

Jim Grant, who hasn't lost to Washington in his three seasons with the Indians, probably will be one of the starters in the double-header Sunday. He beat the Senators five times as a rookie in 1958, six times last year and three times this season.

American Loop Flag Chase Resumes

By The Associated Press
The American League begins its battle back from obscurity (that's a joke, Charlie) tonight, resuming the pennant scrap to decide who gets a crack at saving face against the National League in the World Series.

If you've forgotten how things stood before the AL was laid out by the NL All-Stars, the New York Yankees are on top, leading Cleveland by 2½ after dropping three straight at Boston. Chicago's defending champion White Sox are third, three games back, with Baltimore fourth, another length behind.

Going into the opener of a four-game series at Detroit tonight, Yankee Manager Casey Stengel mentioned the possibility of resting Roger Maris, the ailing thumper who leads the majors with 27 home runs. The young right fielder also led the AL in futility, leaving seven men on base, in Wednesday's All-Star game shut-out by the NL.

It's probable, however, that both Maris, bothered by a sprained wrist, and sore-legged Mickey Mantle will be in the line-up.

The Indians, who play three with New York beginning Monday, get back to business against fired-up Washington. The Nats have won seven of their last eight — since dropping three straight to the Indians.

Rabid Fans Help Pirates Stay At Top

Rival Coaches Envision Season Change But Faithful Disagree

By FRANK ECK

AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — A few years ago people around here never heard of Joe L. Brown. When he became general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates he was more popularly known as "the comedian's son."

Some wondered when his famous dad, Joe E. Brown, would put on one of his baseball skits. But now the good burghers of Pittsburgh talk of Joe L. as "the GM who will bring us our first National League pennant since 1927."

The driver of the airport bus had his personal radio tuned to a game.

"They're leading again," he said without turning his head or taking a hand off the wheel. "That Brown sure has made some good deals for us."

IT WAS THE SAME way in the cab from the hotel to the ballpark. "I'd a had my transistor today only the wife took it with the kids on a picnic," the cabbie said. "It's been raining on and off. Hope she didn't leave it get wet. Unconcerned about the wife and kids getting wet, the cabbie continued:

"That's some team we got. I don't know about Murtaugh (Dan Murtaugh, the manager) but I guess he's all right. Joe L. brought him up from New Orleans after we got rid of Bobby Bragan in 1957. The deals that boy has made. He got Don Hoak, Smoky Burgess and Harvey Haddix from Cincinnati. Then he got Gino Cimoli from St. Louis and recently he talked the Cardinals out of Vinegar Bend Mizell."

It looked like we'd never get to the ball park. Inside Joe L. Brown, 41, was sitting behind the batting cage. George Sisler, 67, the Hall of Fame first baseman who hit .420 for the 1922 St. Louis Browns, was standing to the right. It seems their positions might have been reversed for it is Sisler who must watch the hitters. But he hit .400 and Brown didn't.

THE PIRATES were picked fifth in many quarters in March. They appeared shy in starting pitchers and thin behind their regular infield of Don Hoak, Dick Groat, Bill Mazeroski and Dick Stuart.

"I don't know about that," Sisler spoke up. "The team has good balance. They have led the league in hitting the first 40 games and led in driving in runs. It's a bit early. I don't like to make predictions but they could be in the fight all the way."

Stuart had been benched for light hitting and Rocky Nelson was the first baseman.

"I've worked with Stuart three years," Sisler said. "I think he'll be all right. The fans love him but the team seems to win with him in there."

"I think we've got the best outfield in the league," spoke up Brown. "Roberto Clemente is the best right fielder in baseball. He's got about the same kind of accuracy in his throws as Carl Furillo had."

SISLER AGREED. Nobody said anything about Clemente getting a good share of his hits by swinging at bad pitches. Cimoli is no ball of fire but he has been better at bat than Bill Virdon. And Bob Sinner in left is a "good natural hitter," says Sisler who also worked with him three years.

Brown reminded that Mazeroski had seven homers all spring, and in 40 games this last he hit eight, also that with 33 runs he had driven over 29 runs batting eighth and hitting .226.

"Maz is with the top five RBI

STILL BATTING .700 — Beverly Harmon, 11-year-old player on the English, Ind., Little League baseball team, wears an anguished expression as she watches the opposing pitcher in a recent game. She hit a double, walked once, and struck out the third time but it didn't change her whopping .700. The game was a scheduled practice with Spring Valley.

men and hitting .200," Brown said.

"Groat is the field captain. Sure he's streaky. He made five errors in two games, but that's unusual. He murders Milwaukee's pitching."

"Groat went six for six in one game and in four Milwaukee games had 12 hits. On Memorial day he went 4 for 5."

"Everyone knows how Roy Face is our big relief man but to me the most underrated player is catcher Hal Smith. He plays when we face a southpaw or when Bob Friend pitches. Friend and Vern Law have been terrific. Burgess catches against right-handed pitchers because he hits lefty."

"SHURTAUGH DOES a great job surting the lineup. Hoak leads off against righties and Skinner leads off against lefties. They both get a lot of walks. Hoak, when not leading off, bats fifth. When Hoak is at the top, Skinner bats third. The only other batting change has Clemente third against left handers and fifth against right handers. He bats right-handed."

A rival coach was asked his opinion of the Pirates.

"Look at the records," he said. "The Pirates themselves will be the most surprised people around if they win the pennant. You need two solid hitters to win a pennant. Can you say for sure the Pirates have a .300 hitter? Stuart led them with .297 last year and he sits on the bench a lot."

"Who have they got who played regularly on a pennant winner? After Friend and Law, and Face in the bullpen, where's their pitching? You'll see, they'll drop a few runs in September."

If they do, Pittsburgh fans are going to be terribly disappointed. These fans are different. When it rains, and play continues as it did several times this spring, Pirate fans remain seated. They just open their big umbrellas, or transparent plastic sheets, and watch the action.

Sports Glances

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

If the local Board of Education is willing, Salem football fans may see two high school grid squads operating out of Reilly Stadium this fall.

The newly created West Branch School District, which encompasses Goshe and the surrounding area, has a 10-game football schedule lined up for 1960 but no place to play home games. Until a new school is built and a stadium constructed, West Branch High will have to play all its games on the field unless a temporary home field can be found.

The West Branch schedule is actually the one lined up by Goshe. The Gophers played their home games at Sebring last season but this arrangement was terminated when the Mahoning Local School District was split.

Clifton Heacock, administrative head of the West Branch School District, yesterday asked Salem Schools Business Manager D. M. Fadely about the possibility of using Reilly Stadium as a home base for 1960.

The decision is up to the Salem Board of Education which is not scheduled to meet again until next month.

West Branch has five home games scheduled this fall. Since all five contests are slated to be played on Saturdays, they do not conflict with any home dates of the Salem Quakers.

West Branch has home games carded with Greenford, McDonough, North Lima, Beaver Local and East Canton. The complete West Branch schedule is as follows:

Sept. 10, at United; 17, at Warren St. Marys; 24, Greenford; Oct. 1, at Sandusky St. Marys; 8, McDonough; 15, North Lima; 22, at Jackson-Milton; 29, Beaver Local; Nov. 5, at Canfield; 12, East Canton.

Salem High's schedule is: Sept. 9, Akron Hoban; 16, Leetonia; 23, at Ravenna; 30, Fairport, Pa.; Oct. 7, Campbell Memorial; 14, Cleveland East; 21, Wellsville; 27, at Boardman; Nov. 4, East Liverpool; and 11 at Girard.

Although there are no conflicting dates of West Branch and Salem varsity teams, the Quaker reserve squad usually plays its games on Saturdays.

Still, the two schools ought to be able to work out something which won't be detrimental to the Salem football program but will allow our neighbors to the west to play their 1960 home slate at Reilly.

Incidentally, West Branch will be a member of the new Turnpike Conference which also has as members Canfield, Springfield Local, Jackson-Milton, United and Warren St. Marys.

THE EAST PALESTINE Jaycees also are going to need an assist from area football fans to make the Columbiana County-Beaver Valley All-Star football game on July 30 a success. They are sponsoring the fray.

The Jaycees stand to lose their shirts on this project unless they can get a good turnout for the tilt in East Liverpool. They had hoped to be able to break even this year while building a foundation to make the All-Star game an annual event. It looks now though, like the Ohio Athletic Association will be cutting out games of this type after this year.

The cost of footing the bill to send both All-Star teams to a 10-day training camp at Mount Union College is going to be tremendous. Any proceeds from the game will go toward college scholarships to the players.

Salem High will be represented in the game by seven boys, more than any other school. They are Ned Chappell, Joe Julian, Bob Lambert, Tom Dahms, Vince Horning, Fred Phillips and Pete Schmauch.

The game should be worth seeing. Reserved seat tickets are on sale in this area at Fisher's Sports in Leetonia and Savage's Sporting Goods Store in Washingtonville.

HE WENT THE LIMIT — Sixteen tons of steel mesh was too much for this 5-ton-limit bridge near Pottstown, Ill. The driver, Al Huffman of Charles City, Iowa, was driving on a gravel road searching for a highway when he pulled up to the bridge. There was no turning around room so Huffman forged ahead until—crunch! Workmen spent most of the night and part of the day removing the mesh so the truck could be rescued.

Kiwanis Club Is Told Of Foreign Competition

Walter Everett, assistant secretary of the Deming Co. and former export manager who has spent considerable time in foreign countries representing Demings, addressed the Kiwanis Club Thursday concerning the growing competition of foreign industries, notably West Germany.

He pointed out that the I.C.A. an agency under lend-lease, permits foreign companies to bid against U.S. companies for jobs which the United States is providing the money. Their bids are often 20 per cent or more less than domestic bids because of lower operating costs, he declared.

DISMISSES SUIT
SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — The Remington Arms Co., Inc., has dismissed its suit against Bargain Fair, accused of selling Remington products at prices below those set by the manufacturer. Elmer L. Schwarz, attorney for Bargain Fair, said he dismissal might be interpreted as "a concession that Ohio law will support price fixing."

In answering the Remington charge, Bargain Fair was prepared to contest the validity of Ohio fair trade laws. Oral arguments were to have been heard today.

Convention Sufferer Shows Signs of Relief

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Do you suffer from the overweight, migraine, gastric discomfort, arthritis, congestion and depressive effects of national political conventions?

This week 6 out of 10 Americans do.

It's time we did something about it. After a crash research program, conducted at great personal risk and sacrifice through five conventions, I am now authorized to offer this cure. Henceforth, in all national political conventions, I would:

Limit all demonstrations to 46 seconds and participation to one man over 70 playing a kazoo.

Eliminate all extroverts in funny hats, amateur photographers, sleepers, readers, aisle minglers, late-comers, celebrity clutched and television camera hoggers — which does not quite mean all the politicians and delegates.

Require all nominating speeches to be mailed, not spoken, to the convention by fourth class mail and all seconding speeches be limited to the adjectives one can get on the back of a postcard. Eliminate all the rejects from actors' studios who are hired for the demonstrations and all the amateurs recruited for the same purpose because they wear lamp shades at parties.

Make it a felony to say, more than 22 times an hour, "man of proven courage and ability," "challenge of our times," "world at the crossroads, and "America cries out for.

Eliminate all fractional delegates. If a whole delegate can't get here, the heck with him. Half delegates confuse the vote count.

Limit the playing of "Dixie" to half dozen times an hour. Ditto Texas, "The Eyes of" same and its yellow rose.

Make it a felony to slow up the

President Extends GI Loan Program

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed a bill extending for two more years the GI home loan program for World War II veterans.

In the 14 years the program has been in effect, five million veterans have acquired 40 billion dollars worth of property through low interest loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration.

The bill also continues for another two years the appropriation of 150 million dollars a year for direct loans to veterans unable to get private loans at the government-guaranteed interest rate of 5 1/4 per cent.

Both programs would have expired July 25. For Korean War veterans, the guaranteed loan program is in effect until 1965.

The administration had opposed extending the World War II program any further, but the bill passed both houses of Congress by overwhelming margins.
